Dayton Children's Hospital PGY1 Pharmacy Residency Program

Resident Profiles

Pharmacy Residents Class of 2026-2027

Makayla Eversole, PharmD
PGY1 Resident

Hometown: Germantown, Ohio
Pharmacy School: Ohio Northern University Raabe College of Pharmacy
Why I chose this program: My passion for pediatrics started early in my pharmacy career and led me to become an intern at Dayton Children's Hospital. During my time as an intern, I experienced firsthand the welcoming environment and dedication that the pharmacy team demonstrated every day. Dayton Children's was a special place where the patients were always at the forefront of practice, and this was what drove me to decide this was where I wanted to further my professional career. This program has guided me in my journey to becoming a pediatric pharmacist, and I am excited to continue to learn under this program.

Nikole Musick, PharmD
PGY1 Resident

Hometown: Royal Oak, MI

Pharmacy School: University of Michigan College of Pharmacy

Why I chose this program: My passion for working with children led me to pursue residency at a freestanding pediatric hospital. I was drawn to the unique patient population and positive, supportive culture at Dayton Children's Hospital. The pharmacy team’s genuine investment in their residents is what really stood out to me. I knew this was a place where I could grow as a pharmacist and build confidence alongside a team that wants me to succeed!

Pharmacy Resident Class of 2025-2026

Brittany Hawley, PharmD
PGY1 Pharmacy Resident

Hometown: Huber Heights, Ohio

Pharmacy school: Ohio Northern University

Why I chose this program: I always knew I wanted to go into pediatrics and help kids in a different way. Being an intern at Dayton Children's prior to residency, I knew that I wanted to end up here because I have seen how much everyone cares about taking care of the children and always putting them first! I have learned so much, yet know I have so much more to learn from the people I have interacted with and come to know and love so much at DCH that I couldn't imagine learning how to be a future clinical pharmacist from a greater group of pharmacists!

Pharmacy Residents Class of 2024-2025

Braden Cowell, PharmD
PGY1 Pharmacy Resident

Hometown: Laguna Hills, California

Pharmacy school: Cedarville University School of Pharmacy

Why I chose this program: I was familiar with Dayton Children's Hospital through my school but did not know much about the program until I decided to pursue a pediatric residency. As I began my research, it was evident to me that this program was planned with residents in mind. Everyone I spoke with throughout the application process was engaged, friendly, and interested in my success as a learner. I had the unique opportunity of matching as a future resident while I was on an APPE rotation here, and the professionalism, care, and enthusiasm for teaching were on display even before they knew I would be coming back as a resident.

Paisley Hudson, PharmD
PGY1 Pharmacy Resident

Hometown: Swedesboro, New Jersey

Pharmacy school: Philadelphia College of Pharmacy

Why I chose this program: I found an interest in pediatrics during my APPE year when I observed how resilient this population is. I found Dayton Children’s to be an ideal place to continue exploring pediatric pharmacy because of their outspoken efforts to create an environment conducive to learning. The program is established with clear intent to both meet the needs of their team and set their residents up for success as we navigate the transition from pharmacy student to pediatric pharmacist.

Pharmacy Residents Class of 2023-2024

Amber Sandlin, PharmD
PGY1 Pharmacy Resident

Hometown: Ross, Ohio

Pharmacy school: University of Tennessee Health Science Center

Why I chose this program:
I discovered a love for pediatric medicine during an emergency medicine APPE during my final year of pharmacy school and knew I had to pursue it. When comparing programs, Dayton Children's stood out as a place for people who are extremely passionate about providing exceptional patient care and facilitating professional growth. I'm grateful to be serving a diverse patient population with preceptors from equally diverse backgrounds and varying areas of expertise.

Matthew Schubert, PharmD
PGY1 Pharmacy Resident

Hometown: Libertyville, Illinois

Pharmacy school: University of Minnesota College of Pharmacy – Twin Cities

Why I chose this program: My passion or serving a primarily pediatric population drove me to search for a standalone pediatric hospital. Dayton Children's serves a diverse patient population and is a welcoming, accepting environment where pharmacists can thrive. The pharmacy department is excited to have pharmacy residents, and all of the preceptors are eager to foster the development for not only their residents, but also their peers.

Pharmacy Residents Class of 2022-2023

Courtney Edmunds, PharmD, MPH
PGY1 Pharmacy Resident

Hometown: Leesburg, Georgia

Pharmacy School: Auburn University Harrison College of Pharmacy

Why I chose this program: I have always had a passion for pediatric medicine, and this residency program allowed me to have a PGY1 that focused primarily on pediatrics. Dayton Children's Hospital is large enough to provide care for a diverse patient population while also being small enough to provide intimate and individualized patient care. The residency program here at Dayton Children's provides preceptors from various backgrounds to provide a well-rounded experience.

Billie Mitchell, PharmD
PGY1 Pharmacy Resident

Hometown: Milford, Ohio

Pharmacy School: University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy

Why I chose this program: I have had a passion to help the pediatric population as long as I can remember. I knew while looking at programs I wanted to be at a standalone children's hospital. During my interview, I loved the culture of Dayton Children's Hospital and the diverse patient population. Patient care teams are welcoming to learners, and I was excited to be a member of the inaugural pharmacy residency class.
